Forty students of the five state teachers' colleges of Missouri participated in the state forensic tournament, here last Thursday, Friday and Saturday. There were entries in debate, oration, and extemporaneous speaking.

The Forensic Union, under the guidance of Orville Crowder Miller, head of the department of speech, sponsored the 1931 contests. Springfield will be host to the 1932 tournament.

Extemporaneous speaking was the first event of the tournament, this contest taking place at 2 o'clock Friday afternoon in the College auditorium. "Should the U. S. Recognize Soviet Russia?" was the subject of the talk which won first place in the contest for Paul Johnson of Warrensburg. The speaker ranking second was W. A. Martin of Springfield, who spoke on "Should the U. S. Become a Member of the World Court?" Maryville's extemporaneous speaker, Wilbur Pettigrew, placed third on the subject, "Is Europe Dependent Upon the U. S. for Economic Prosperity?" Dorothy Rigdon of Cape Girardeau spoke on "Would a U. S. of Europe Affect the U. S. Unfavorably?" Kirksville was not entered in this contest as its speaker was ill. Mr. Johnson, who placed first, received a prize of $15, and will represent the state colleges in the tournament this month at Cedar Falls, Ia.

The state oratorical contest was held at 7 o'clock Friday night in the auditorium, preceding the concert by the Brahms Quartette at 8:20 o'clock. Arthur Macom, of Cape Girardeau, won the championship in the oratorical division of the tournament, receiving a prize of $15 and the privilege of representing the state in the Cedar Falls tournament. Second place was given to Wayne Shannon of Springfield. Clarence Woolsey, speaking on "Internation-

Graduate of College Tells of Victories

Mr. Phillips, Chairman of the Education Department of the College, recently received a letter from Wiley Poleson, a graduate of the College, who is teaching at Admire, Kansas. A part of the letter follows: "I have had a very successful year I believe. My basketball team finished its conference with a percentage of 1.000. We were second in the County League and we won the County Tournament. I thank Henry Iba for that. What I know about basketball I learned entirely from him. "In the County Scholarship examinations given last week, my class in Industrial Arts placed first; my class in General Science first; and my class in Physics third. The school as a whole also placed first in the county."

COACH E. A. (Left) DAVIS head of the men's physical education department of the College and coach of the Bearcat football and track squads. Under his able direction the Bearcats have had unusually successful track and football seasons.

B. K. S. Quarterly
Recently a copy of the Bolekow High School Quarterly came to the desk of the editor of the Northwest Missourian. The small magazine or bulletin gives information concerning almost every department of the Bolekow public school system, and the first issue is dedicated to the Sophomore Class. The Editor is Hilma Rosenquist, and Dale Neely, is Business Manager. The superintendent of the Bolekow school system is Mr. H. C. Holt.

Instructor Attends Personnel Meeting

Mr. Bert Cooper recently attended the North Central Association meeting and was also a representative from this College to a meeting of Teachers College Personnel Association in Chicago.

At this latter meeting, in which more than twenty-five colleges, found in states from Colorado to the Atlantic Coast, were represented, an organization to be known as the Teachers College Personnel Association was formed. In the future the group will meet annually with the American Association of Teachers Colleges.

The purpose of the meeting was to work out a testing program for college freshmen, which will be participated in by teachers' colleges all over the country, with a standard form of program that will enable each college to compare results with other schools. The educators met to determine how the tests should be given and tabulated uniformly.

Committees were named to start work on a suitable intelligence test for college students, a suitable achievement test for entering freshmen, and a professional test for teachers. The series of tests for next year have been decided upon.

Speaks to Class
Recently pasteurized milk was discussed by Mr. C. M. Chase, manager of the Nodaway Milk Products Co., in a talk before the child welfare class, taught by O. Myking Mehns, at the College.

Inscribed Gold Headed Cane Is Now in Museum

Cane Belonging to Albert P. Morehouse, Former Missouri Governor, is Presented to College by Mr. Nat Sisson.

One of the latest and highly prized additions to the Social Science museum is a gold headed cane which at one time belonged to Governor Albert P. Morehouse. The cane, which was presented to Mr. Morehouse by Senators, officers and clerical force of the Missouri Legislature when he was Governor, came to the College through Mr. Nathaniel P. Sisson of Maryville who received the cane from Nannie M. Neale, a daughter of Mr. Morehouse. Mr. Cook of the College called on Mr. Sisson for the cane.

The inscriptions on the head of the beautiful cane are as follows:

"A. P. Morehouse—From Senators Officers & Clerical Force of Senate 34th Assly of Mo.—Presented to Nat. Sisson—Friend & Business Partner of Governor Morehouse by Nannie M. Neale, Daughter and surviving heir."

Mr. Morehouse, who was Lieutenant Governor, became Governor at the death of Governor Marmaduke in 1887, and served for the remainder of the term.

He was for years a partner of Mr. Sisson, who is well known in Maryville.

others present at the M. I. A. A. meet at Columbia, praised the little Student Council president, Pat King, for his staying qualities which enabled him to win the only first for the College, the two-mile run. The last three hundred yards of this long race could be labelled nothing less than a sprint according to those who saw it, but Pat was equal to it and came out master of ceremonies.

Last Debate Is Lost to California Team

Wilbur Pettigrew and H. Jerome Smith, debaters of the College, lost their debate Monday, April 1, to William Katz and Joe Orloff, representing Southwestern University at Los Angeles, Cal. The decision of 2 to 1 was given by three Tarkio judges.

The debate was the last of the season for the College. The California team supported the affirmative issue while Maryville upheld the negative arguments. Smith and Pettigrew formed a strong combination against the team of Southwestern U. Judges found it difficult to give a decision as both teams presented strong arguments and both exhibited seasoned experience.

Southwestern University team came to Maryville from Abilene, Texas. They left the next morning for Liberty to debate at William Jewell College.

Basketball Picture Is in Post-Dispatch

One of the S. T. C. group pictures seen in the St. Louis Post Dispatch for Sunday, March 22, was the Bearcat basketball group and coach Henry P. Iba.

During the last two seasons, the Bearcats have participated in 68 games, having lost but 6, while they have won 62 games for the College.

After a heavy season, the S. T. C. basketball team made a remarkable showing in both the Winfield, Kansas, invitation tournament and in the National Tournament held in Kansas City.

W. J. Montgomery Is Host for Banquet

W. J. Montgomery of the Montgomery Clothing Company, gave his annual banquet for the football and basketball lettermen of the College and high school, Tuesday night, March 17. Plates were laid for sixty persons.

Those present were: Coaches E. A. Davis and Henry P. Iba of the College, and William Smith and Wallace Croy of the high school, President Lamkin of the College, Weber McMillen, John Knox, Fischer, Cowden, Overmier, Mitzel, Lewis, Seeley, Mahood, R. Dowell, W. Dowell, Knorr, Perkins, Daniels, Phelps, McCracken, Iba, Westfall, Hodgkinson, Finley, Merrick, Milner, Stalcup, Sillers, Hindman, Ruth, Moore, Smith, Sheetz, Hedger, Taylor, Wright and Lisle of the College, and Bengo, Bovard, Burrett, Jones, Schooler, Miller, Schmidt, Hall, Haseelwood, Farrar, Donahue, Chick, Kissinger, Allen, Barrock, Wiles, Goodwine, and Rickman of the high school.

Loyalty

Loyalty to his school and to his team was displayed recently when Leland Thornhill, a sophomore in the College High School, walked eight miles through deep snow in order to be on hand to help his basketball team mates in a tournament.

DR. H. S. FOSTER, Head of the Social Science Department of the College. Dr. Foster is responsible for the starting of a new Social Science Museum for the College.

Men Are Forced to Miss Dinner at Chillicothe

Maryville Knights of the Hickory Stick Failed to Arrive for Saturday Night Dinner Because of Bus Trouble.

Several Maryville members of the Knights of the Hickory Stick organization attempted to attend the program dinner of the club, which was held in Chillicothe Saturday, March 28, at 6:30 o'clock. However, the men were foiled in the attempt and disappointed since old man bus trouble hit them and caused them to take time out at the Davis Filling Station, just twelve miles east of St. Joseph, on Highway 36.

While holding a little S. T. C. Rally, exchanging professor's wit and humor, pushing nickles in a pretty slot machine and also waiting for the relief corps to come from St. Joseph and take them back to St. Joseph, where they could catch the bus to Maryville, the men tuned in on KFEQ and heard a part of the College Y. M. C. A. Quartette program. The boys in the Quartette had traveled as far as St. Joseph with the Hickory Stick men in the bus and were to have been picked up by the group when they came back through St. Joseph from Chillicothe. As it happened, the broadcasting party had to come back on the train.

The men making the trip were: President Lamkin, H. T. Phillips, Mr. Edmiston, Mr. Cooper, Mr. Mehns, Dr. Lawing, Dr. Hake, Mr. Wilson, Dr. Foster, Mr. Charles Myers and Mr. LaMar.

Mr. G. E. Dille, superintendent of Chillicothe schools, who had charge of the dinner program, the first Hickory Stick Dinner to which the wives or lady friends of the members had been invited, gives the following account of the affair, in part:

"The first part of the program consisted of a real chicken dinner with all the trimmings, followed by a pseudoradio program sponsored by the Chillicothe, the Girls' Pop Organization of the Chillicothe High School and a select band directed by J. M. Dillinger, bandmaster.

"Then came the address of the evening by J. R. Scarborough, High School Supervisor from the State Department of Education at Jefferson City. Mr. Scarborough discussed the prevailing problems relative to the high school curriculum and the employment of high school teachers. He made it very emphatic that the policy of the State Department is one of supervision and assistance, rather than that of discipline and inspection, and stated that the Department is ready and willing to receive suggestions at any time which will improve in the slightest degree the educational system of the state."

Ten College High Boys Win Letters

Ten College High School players received letters for the last basketball season. They were as follows: Ralph Houston, captain; Durward Dougan, LeRoy Marrow, George Bolt, Bohm Townsend, Gerald Hurst, Vilas Conrad, Joe Farrar, and Leland Thornhill.

While five of these boys are seniors and consequently will not get to play on the team next year, there are several good prospects in the squad which will probably mean that the College High will have a strong team again next year.

The boys, coached by Charles Finley, played 21 games of which they won 13.

DR. R. W. EDMISTON, new chemistry instructor who came to the College this year from Ohio. Dr. Edmiston is also teaching some education courses.

COLLEGE OATH
"We will never bring disgrace to this college, by any act of cowardice or dishonesty. We will fight for the ideals and sacred things of the College. We will respect and obey the College laws and do our best to incite a like respect and reverence in others. We will transmit this College to those who come after us, greater, better and more beautiful than it was transmitted to us."

To H. S. Seniors

Perhaps it is because the Northwest Missouri State Teachers College, located at Maryville, Mo., is provided by the State especially for the convenience of Northwest Missouri people, and as such, the State or the Administrators of the College, responsible to the State, do not feel that a great amount of money should be spent on advertising the College. For the State to provide and then advertise the College would be something like a person sacrificing to give someone something of vital importance and value to them, and then going ahead and sacrificing some more to get them to take it.

Regardless of whether or not the above assumption is true, it is a fact that the College does not send out a great amount of high priced literature to prospective students telling of the wonderful advantages to be had here. High school seniors and others interested in attending college should investigate their own Northwest Missouri College which is provided by the people of the State for them, and see if it does not offer them the highest type of training at the lowest possible cost.

The College offers four years of fully accredited college work leading to the B. S. and A. B. Degrees, has had a steady increase in enrollment over a period of years, and placed more than two hundred teachers in public school positions last year.

There are more than sixty outstanding instructors on the faculty list, holding degrees from the leading Colleges and Universities in America, and many of them have had additional training in Europe's educational institutions. One member of the faculty is in England, another is in Spain, while several other members of the faculty are in New York this year, taking advanced University work in order to be better qualified to train Northwest Missouri students and other students who come to the College for degrees.

Though primarily a teacher training institution, pre-professional training is offered in liberal arts courses, and credit toward the degrees offered at the College may be obtained during the five weeks short term in the spring, during the summer quarter or during the fall, winter or spring terms of the regular school year.—S. G. L.

SCHOLARSHIP

A student with a retentive memory may have accumulated a store of facts and may have made a brilliant record in college and still at graduation be lacking in that one quality which distinguishes the true scholar; for there is a great difference between learning and scholarship. Mere learning is an accumulation of facts; scholarship gives the power to use facts for the enrichment of the mind in further study and better living. It digests the facts and utilizes them for growth into wider spheres of knowledge and usefulness.

He whose college education gives him true scholarship acquires the power of growth in understanding which leads to real wisdom. The ripe scholar has growth year by year in his fund of knowledge, ever widening his outlook on life and strengthening his hold on living. He has assimilated what he has learned and made each fact, as it were, bear fruit. His mind is a fertile field which he has cultivated with the utmost care, and the yield is in proportion to the skill of the husbandman.

The true scholar draws his knowledge and his culture from all sources; not books alone go into his making. He lives the life of those with whom he is associated, taking from each some part of the wisdom which he makes his own, and irradiating an influence which inspires those among whom he lives to grow likewise in that wisdom which makes for the best in life.—J. L. Jarmon, President State Teachers College, Farmville, Virginia.

TAKE CARE OF THE MINUTES

Perhaps one of the most difficult adjustments of college life is the apportionment of time. We believe that everyone should have a rather definite goal toward which to work, and then use his time in the way which will help him to best attain his purpose. If you have several years of college yet before you, stop long enough in your pursuit of knowledge to gain a little benefit and a few lessons from human companionship.

"Simplicity, simplicity, simplicity! Let your affairs be as half a dozen, not as a hundred or a thousand," said Emerson. Choose your goal, and don't be a blunderbuss. Shoot straight, and make all of your time count in the attainment of your ideal.

The Misses Katherine and Margaret Franken were called to their home at Northboro, Missouri, recently by the death of their brother. Mr. Franken was the father of Miss Joan Franken, a former S. T. C. student.

The new History of Missouri, Vol. V., compiled by the American Historical Society, gives the following account concerning Nathaniel Sisson:

Nathaniel Sisson, socially known as Nat. Sisson of Maryville, in a life time of more than four score years has been a witness of great events, including the development of practically all the country west of the Mississippi to the Pacific Coast, but his career has been more than a passive witness and he has been a participant, first in the turmoil of the Civil War as a youthful Union soldier and since 1866 as a factor in the business and community life of one of the best towns of Northwest Missouri.

Mr. Sisson was born in Southeastern Ohio, in Meigs County, May 25, 1845. In the concluding scene at Appomattox on April 9, Mr. Sisson as a bugler is credited with having sounded the last charge of the Union forces, a charge that was halted by the appearance of a flag of truce from the Confederates. After the war Mr. Sisson attended school in Ohio and on July 31, 1866, started alone for the West, arriving in the little village of Maryville in Northwest Missouri, August 6, 1866. Here he taught school, followed the trade of cabinet maker, and while county road and bridge commissioner studied surveying and civil engineering. His masterpiece was a wooden toll bridge over the Brazos River in Texas, which had a single span of 266 feet in length.

On April 13, 1875, Mr. Sisson became associated with Albert P. Morehouse, later governor of Missouri, in the real estate and abstract business, and two years later Mr. Sisson prepared and had copyrighted an original system of abstract books. He at the same time prepared a lithograph map known as the Centennial Map of Nodaway County. The firm was first Morehouse, Sisson & Company, and after three years became Morehouse & Sisson. Fourteen years later Mr. Sisson bought out the interest of Governor Morehouse and continued the business alone until 1890, when he took in his son Paul as a partner in the firm of N. Sisson & Son handling real estate, loans and abstracts. In December, 1904, the Sisson Loan & Title Company was incorporated, and since that date Mr. Sisson has been president, though for a number of years he has been practically retired from business.

For a number of years he was one of the leading men of influence in the Republican Party of Northwest Missouri. He was at one time nominated for Congress, making the race in 1882, and in 1893 was Republican candidate for the General Assembly. He has filled a number of positions in the local government, being a former president of the Maryville School Board and was a member of the Board of Directors of the old Maryville Seminary and later a member and chairman of the Northwest Normal Committee which raised subscriptions and performed all the preliminary work required to bring to Maryville the Northwest Missouri State Teachers College. Mr. Sisson has given much time to the promotion of patriotic organizations. He is a member of the Lincoln Farm Association, which bought the farm home where Lincoln was born. He is a member of the St. Joseph Chapter of the Sons of the American Revolution and in 1904 was aide de camp to Gen. W. W. Blackmar, commander-in-chief of the Grand Army of the Republic. He is a former commander of the Sedgwick Post, Maryville, and has membership in all the local bodies of Masonry.

Coach Fielding H. Yost

"You can't win big victories on technical rules! You win on rules, PLUS CHARACTER. And the relative proportion comes pretty near being a pinch of rules to a pound of character."

Coach Ernest Godfrey

"No football team can give its best and do phenomenal work at a crucial time, unless they are physically fit all the way, and are playing the game for something greater than themselves."

"Back of each individual you must have a high standard of morality, with character and personality that develops into leadership and self-control. The higher your personnel, the better team spirit you can develop."

Coach Knute Rockne

"What I require of a football team is P. E. P.—pep. Each one of these letters stand for something."

"The first is for PURPOSE. With out the right purpose a player is useless. It is a part of his state of mind. The important thing is the team, not how you look."
"The second is for Enthusiasm. You must want to play, and want to give the best for your team and your school."
"The third letter — PERSEVERANCE. Nothing can be done without it. It is the ability to stay in the game. Stay in there and stick during the times your legs seem wooden pegs and your feet full of lead. Hold on!"

Cape Girardeau advanced to the semi-finals as a result of winning from Kirkville 2 to 1.

Maryville and Cape Girardeau eliminated the two Springfield teams in the semi-finals and advanced to the finals on Saturday night.

The state debate championship was won by Cape Girardeau by a decision of 2 to 1. Wilbur Pettigrew and H. Jerome Smith participated in the championship debate for Maryville. Cape Girardeau was awarded a silver trophy cup, the gift coming from the College here.

Clifford Cornwell of Kirkville, president of the State League, said: "Nov. 19 has been a tournament planned and managed as well as the one this year under the Northwest Missouri State Teachers College."

All social events during the tournament were planned and supervised by Miss Cleola Dawson. A tea Friday afternoon, a banquet Friday night, and a dance at the Residence Hall on Saturday night were among the social features for the visiting contestants.

H. Jerome Smith, president of the Forensic Union, played a large part in the tournament's success.

squad this year. With the abundance of material which Coach Iba had, this year next season should be well above par.

Education

Education raises persons above their surroundings and makes them masters of themselves. Rather than merely being creatures of circumstance. It is not enough merely to know how to get a living; it is necessary to know how to live.—Calvin Coolidge.

Peace

Peace is not a static thing. To maintain peace is as dynamic in its requirements as is the conduct of war. We can not say, "Let there be peace," and go about other business. Nor are the methods by which peace is to be maintained and war to be prevented by slogans or by abstract phrases or by academic theory.

Progress toward peace can be attained only as a result of realistic practical daily conduct among nations.

Brahms Quartette Is Liked by All

One of the most pleasing programs which has been given in the College Auditorium for many a day was presented by the Brahms Quartette, nationally known vocal artists, when they sang their program of vocal chamber music immediately following the State Oratorical Contest at 8:15 o'clock, March 27.

The Quartette, consisting of four charming young ladies, Lari Banks, soprano, Nadine Cox, soprano, Lydia Summers, contralto, and Elinor Markey, contralto, with Howard Leslie at the piano, more than pleased the large audience which assembled for the treat of music, which they presented.

The group, which is under the exclusive management of the National Music League, was generously applauded for each number and encore. They sang for each number and encore. Mr. Leslie played two piano numbers which were also highly appreciated. The artists gave the following program:

Y. M. Anniversary Is on Wednesday

Today, Wednesday, April 8, marks the twenty-fifth anniversary of the founding of the Y. M. C. A. of this College. The assembly program at 10 o'clock this morning, given by the Y. M. C. A., is the first of the day's activities in observance of the event.

Ben Cherrington of Denver, Colo., director of the Foundation for the Advancement of Social Sciences at the University of Denver, addressed the student body on the subject, "Education for World Citizenship." Music was furnished by the Y. M. C. A. Quartet. The scripture was read by Wilbur Pettigrew, and the prayer given by Evert Bashor. Presiding was George Walter Allen, president of the "Y."

At noon today officers of the Student Y. M. C. A. and of the H-Y Club of Maryville high school were guests of the Rotary Club at a luncheon. Mr. Cherrington addressed the organization.

Tonight the "Y" anniversary banquet will be held in the Social Service room of the M. E. Church, South, beginning at 6:15 o'clock. Mr. Cherrington will speak on the subject, "Religion, the Hope or Opiate of the World." Special numbers appear on the program, including the "Y" Quartet. Members of the Association, former members, and friends will attend.

Mr. Cherrington will leave Maryville at 8:25 o'clock tonight for Chicago.

Mr. Cherrington is a graduate of the University of Nebraska and has completed residence work for the degree of Doctor of Philosophy at Columbia University. Following his graduation from the University he served for a number of years as coach of athletics in California and Nebraska Universities. After the World War he was regional student secretary of the Y. M. C. A. in the Rocky Mountain Region, serving from 1919 until 1926. Mr. Cherrington is an outstanding authority on international problems. He has spent number of summers studying the League of Nations and World Court in Geneva, Switzerland, and as director of the Foundation is the leader of a number of seminars on world problems. Bert Cooper, head of the extension department, was the first Maryville "Y" president.

Y. M. and Y. W. Meet Will Be Held Soon

The Missouri State Officers Training Conference of the Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. is to be held in Columbia at the University, on April 10, 11, and 12. Several of the students of the College are making an effort to attend.

Sherwood Eddy, of New York City, Miss Nellie Lee Holt, Stephens College, Columbia, and Mr. George Simmons of St. Louis, will be some of the speakers. Other leaders will be Mr. H. H. Horn of St. Louis, Miss Fern Babcock, and Mr. Arno Hasek of Washington University, and members of the faculty of the University of Missouri.

S. T. C. students interested in going should see Miss DeLuce or Mr. LaMar. If several students plan to go the College bus may be taken.

Members of National Council Have Dinner

The members of the Maryville branch of the National Council of Primary Education held their formal spring dinner at the Country Club, Saturday evening.

Easter appointments were used in the table decorations. At the speaker's table a large silver basket filled with Easter lilies and snapdragons formed the centerpiece, while silver candlesticks holding yellow tapers tied with green tulle added further decorations. Vases of snapdragons formed the centerpiece of the other tables with crystal holders and yellow tapers. The place card nut cups were Easter bunnies carrying baskets of candies. Favors were sachets in pastel shades.

Miss Pauline Andrews, was the toastmistress of the evening. Toasts in the form of Easter greetings were offered by the following:

From our President—Lorene Harris.
From a past-President—Irene Smith.
From an Alumnae—Caroline Hoeffley.
From a visiting Primary Council member—Beverly Martin, University of Nebraska.

Miss Chloë Millikan, sponsor of the local Primary Council, introduced the speaker. At the evening, Miss Alice M. Cusack, director of kindergarten-primary education in the public schools of Kansas City. Miss Cusack spoke on "How May the Teacher Cultivate Her Own Creative Instinct?"

Timber from White House Is in Museum

Dr. H. A. Foster, chairman of the Social Science Department of the College, recently received from President Lamkin one of the sections of timber removed from the White House in Washington, D. C., after 112 years of service. The piece of timber, which will be placed in the new Social Science Museum, was presented by the National Lumber Manufacturers Association.

The card attached to the lumber bears the following information: "For 112 years, during the residence of 26 Presidents of the United States, this fine piece of pine lumber helped to support the roof of the Executive Mansion. It was removed at the time of remodeling the White House, in the summer of 1927, and was found to be in perfect condition. It was originally built into the Mansion during the residence of President James Madison in 1815, following its burning by the British. It would have serviceably endured for hundreds of years more."

ATTEND COLLEGE!

Dear High School Senior:
Perhaps you will soon be graduated from your local high school. Your high school graduation is a memorable milestone in your life. It marks a period of worthy attainment and this college is taking this opportunity to extend to you sincere congratulations.

High school commencement, in addition to recognizing past achievement, marks plainly for you the possibility of a future far more successful than your past years. A life of success, service, and happiness awaits you if you seek it with serious purpose, determination, and hard work. The world needs men and women qualified to hold the big jobs, the positions of leadership.

The Twentieth Century with its whirl and speed demands college training to enable you to make the best of your opportunities. While the following statements or statistics may not be accurate for today still the differences in successes of the college trained and the untrained will always be noted. According to one authority your chances for success are a hundred to one greater if you are equipped with a college education. A college graduate has one chance in 172 of becoming noted; a high school graduate, one in 1,006. Seventy-seven per cent of the men listed in "Who's Who" are college graduates. The average college graduate during his years from 22 to 60 will earn $150,000; the high school graduate from 18 to 60 will earn $78,000.

The rapid increase in college enrollment means that an ever-increasing number of the people you meet in life will be college trained. No matter what you expect to do, you cannot afford not to get that training for yourself. The value of the smaller institutions for at least the first two years of college is well recognized. Today the two larger universities of California will not allow students to enroll until they have had two years training in a smaller college. The presidents of the better universities join others in advising students to complete their sophomore work before entering the university. If you desire to teach, this college offers you a full four-year course. If you want a standard Bachelor of Arts degree, the college presents equal advantages with other standard institutions. If you expect to enter a profession other than teaching, you can get your first two years of pre-professional work—fully recognized hour for hour by the best universities at this college.

You will have to pay for your education or perhaps someone will have to make sacrifices to send you. No college offers more for the necessary cost than we do. The annual expenditure can be kept low and still you can do the things college students should do. Here you will have opportunity to take part in music, dramatics, athletics and other extra-curricular and curricular activities which are provided at any other college or university.

Before finally deciding what you will do this next year, we hope you will consider the advantages offered by the college which belongs to the people of Northwest Missouri.

THE COLLEGE SWIMMING POOL

Former Student Is Trying New Project

Mr. Clyde C. Rowland, a graduate of the College, says that he is enjoying his work as superintendent of schools at Lawson, Missouri, a great deal. He has been experimenting and doing some constructive work in the nature of carrying out an activity program, scheduling classes and in various other phases of school work. Mr. Rowland says that he would like for other school superintendents, especially of schools the size of his, to give their experiences along such lines as their "activity programs," "schedule of classes," and other curricular and extra-curricular activities which they are now carrying on, perhaps on a new plan.

From Mr. Rowland's letter we have the following:

"We are using the sixty-minute period this year with success. I have one scheduled 'activity period' for each day for both the junior and senior high school. Students more or less choose their own activities to be carried out and they are in a regular schedule, each club or organization meeting once a week. These clubs, as you will note in our school paper, include dramatics, music, assembly, art, agriculture, debate, science, literary, sewing, etc.

"The school paper has proved a worthwhile project judging from the standpoint that all our activities are judged from, that is, its value in giving

Y. M. C. A. Quartette Is Praised in Letter

Members of the Y. M. C. A. Quartet of the College received the following letter, among others, congratulating them on their recent program given from radio station KFEQ, St. Joseph, Missouri:

The entertainment you gave by radio through KFEQ, St. Joseph, Mo., which I heard at 5:00 p.m. Saturday, March 28, was singularly impressive and entertaining. "Aunt Jemima," "Down South," "Sleep Kentucky Babe," "Down in Mobile," and especially "Rollin' Bones," held my ear, for men so young.

As Rudy and Little Jack Little and others retire, there will be younger men to take their places.

I hope my daughter, Exylce Minnis, who is a student there in your College, enjoyed the entertainment as much as I did.

Compliments and best wishes,
D. A. Minnis, Chillicothe.

Y. W. C. A.

The regular meeting of the Y. W. C. A. was held Tuesday evening, March 31. The following program was given under the direction of Miss Eula McQuigg: Scripture reading, Alice Miller; talk, "Brazil," Mildred Abrogast; reading, "East is West," Mildred Medsker; group singing and prayer.

Plans are being made to send a delegate to the Y. W. C. A. Convention at Columbia, Missouri, April 10, 11, and 12.

The Stroller

By 1111

Hodgkinson "The Mighty" reports that at one time he was a hero worshiper. It seems that he saw a group of men reputed to be great peddlers. He slept in the gym with them, and when they ran, he ran from Reno to Onion Center with them. Andy Payne was his god, and whether the run was enough to justify his opinion of Andy is another story. For particulars see "The Mighty Ted." It is really a touching story when told by Ted. The Stroller thinks that he will have Ted write a life story and sell stock in the "Corruption." If you have any Bazaar tickets, I will dicker with you on the deal.

The Stroller had a terrible time trying to catch his Easter Rabbit. He finally gave up the idea as a myth or as just another newspaper story, stole some eggs from the neighbor's henhouse, found some tin cans and reverted to his boyhood days. The menu—boiled eggs in muddy water, served on a damp creek bank with the gang over in the woods on the back eighty—was O. K., and nobody poured.

Oh yes, if anyone needs a nickel for Sunday School see Mr. Phillips. He won thirty, in a certain nickel machine somewhere (perhaps it was in Nevada) on a certain unlucky trip to Chillicothe, according to reports which the Stroller gets. President Jamkin, Dr. Edmiston, Mr. Cooper and others seemed to have had an off day so far as luck is concerned. Mr. Phillips ate an Easter Rabbit—and "The rabbit foot did its stuff."

William (Bill) Holdridge piano instructor in the College Conservatory of Music is asking for correction in the last Stroller. From the reports which the Stroller gets, Bill's feelings were injured because the story left the impression that all the eligible faculty bachelors were now married. The Stroller is glad to make corrections occasionally. He is glad for an expression from one who's talk and pleasant conversation has at times left an impression concerning marriage which is slightly opposite from the one which Bill would have the Stroller convey. The Stroller also takes this opportunity to warn the ladies to keep their eyes open, because Bill may get serious if we may believe reports.

Spring fever is the next thing on the program for those who are lazy. For those who cut classes and for those who cut the campus, there is a penalty. You are merely cutting your own throat, so, take the advice of the Stroller and disregard the lazy feeling caused by spring fever, and avoid cutting your own throat.

The Industrial Arts department (Burl Zimmerman and Frank Moore) have begun the building of the church for the May Fete.

From the number of weddings going on, and from announcements informally or otherwise presented, the Stroller suggests that the College preserve the May Fete church for future needs.

Former Student Is Successful Coach

President Jamkin recently received a letter from Jack Bland a graduate of the College who has been coaching athletics for the last three years at Lawrenceville, Illinois. The following clipping from an Illinois paper tells something of Mr. Bland's success:

Jack Bland, coach of Lawrenceville High School, didn't get to bring his high powered basketball team to the state finals as one of the eight participants, but he did bring the players as spectators. Lawrenceville was one of the early heavy favorites to compete in the state tourney until Mt. Vernon knocked it cold in the finals of the Bridgeport sectional, 22 to 12.

Bland and his boys had hung up their 31st triumph of the year before meeting the Mt. Vernon team. Several of the 31 victories were gained while they were winning the Wabash valley basketball tourney, which had some 60 teams competing. Coach Bland as well as the rest of the populace of Lawrenceville are still amazed at the way Mt. Vernon took their measurements.

"It was a hard blow to take," said Bland, "but I have every one of my regulars back next year and we hope we will be back next years as one of the eight contestants."

Bland has been coaching at Lawrenceville for three years and has been unusually successful. His football team has won 25 out of 26 contests, winning the Southern Illinois football title two years in a row, both years being undefeated. This is the first district Lawrenceville has won in 13 years. The last time it accomplished the feat it played in the state at Springfield.

The Y. M. C. A. Quartette of the College, helped in two special Sunday evening services at the M. E. Church South in Maryville, Sunday, March 29. On account of the roads the Gospel Team Program which was to have been given at Ravenwood Sunday morning, March 29, was postponed.

P.T.A. Magazine Is Dedicated to This District

The March Issue of Publication for Branch of Parent-Teachers Association Tells of Activities Here.

The March issue of the Missouri Parent-Teacher Magazine, the official organ of the Missouri Branch of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers, is dedicated to the Maryville or Northwest Missouri District, which includes Atchison, Gentry, Holt, Harrison, Nodaway and Worth counties.

On the front of the twenty-five page magazine is a picture of the Administration Building of the College as seen from the pines. Underneath the picture is the statement: "This issue is dedicated to the Northwest Missouri State Teachers College, which provides advanced educational facilities for the people in the nineteen counties in the Northwest corner of Missouri."

On page five of the magazine is a short article on Educational Guidance which contains a few rules or suggestions which might help parents to aid children in selecting the proper college to suit individual needs. The article also mentions the high standing of this College and carries the statement that graduates of this College throughout the Nation are bidding for honors in responsible positions and are paying tribute to the stability and efficiency of this, one of Missouri's leading educational institutions.

An article on the same page, written by Dr. J. L. Lawing, superintendent of Maryville Public Schools, tells of Maryville's new Junior Band which has been organized this year.

On page ten of the magazine appears an article by Mrs. Hugh Strong, District President of the Missouri P. T. A., and an article by Mrs. Howard Gray which tells of the reorganization of Maryville's Parent-Teacher Association since the new public school grade building has been completed, which takes the place of three small grade buildings. Mrs. Gray also lists the activities of the organization during the last year and tells of the goals for next year, which include the organization of small study groups and the provision of food for undernourished children.

The magazine also carries a story about Nodaway County's Rural School Chorus of four hundred voices, which sang last year at the College and which gave a program at the College, Saturday, April 4.

Mr. Leslie G. Somerville, county superintendent of schools, was instrumental in organizing the chorus.

Articles appearing on page eleven give information concerning the activities of two of Northwest Missouri's active P. T. A.'s one of which is located at Graham and the other at Ravenwood. Mr. Harry Haun, a graduate of the College, is the superintendent of schools at Graham, while Mr. Eldon Steiger, another graduate of the College, is superintendent of schools at Ravenwood.

Miss Dow talked at the B. Y. P. U. at the Baptist Church, Sunday, March 29, on "Religious Doubts."
